

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY
Department of Mathematics

The Mathematics Department at North Carolina State University invites applications for the LeRoy Martin Professorship in Mathematics. We are seeking exceptionally well-qualified individuals with research interests compatible with those in the department. All areas of pure and applied mathematics will be considered. Candidates must have a PhD in the mathematical sciences. The successful applicant will have an internationally recognized research program, a commitment to effective teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels, a strong record of mentoring PhD students, and demonstrated ability to attract external funding. The Department of Mathematics has strong research programs in both pure and applied mathematics. NC State is very highly ranked nationally in external funding and PhD production in the mathematical sciences. Many members of the department participate in interdisciplinary programs and research groups on campus and in the broader Research Triangle community. More information about the department can be found at <http://www.math.ncsu.edu>.
